A Convict Escaued from the State Prison. -We learn from the Waupun Times that a convict named CHARLES PENDERGEAST, oscaped from the State Prison at Waupun on Thursday evening last, and has not yet been captured. He was sout to Waupun about a year or over sluce, if we remember right, from this city for ploking a gentleman's pocket at a circus. He was arrest ed by Chief of Police Brox in the act, and it was ascortained that he was one of the regular now about 21 yours of age, of light complexion and 5 feet 11 inches high. Commissioner Mac-GRAW offers a reward of $100 for his apprehension and delivery at the Prison, or at any juli in this State.

The Times says he was sout from Milwauks: some three months since, which we think is an error. It also gives the following account of his escape:

"He had been sick, or feigned sickness, and remained more or less in his cell; oftentimes being on his bed and saleon at the hour of looking up for the night. Thursday ovening the keeper on his "lock-up" reported all right; but all was not right, though it was not discovered until too late. Pendergrass had fixed a "proxy" for himself,—u pair of socks stuffed with straw, the bed "ouddled up" in a narrow heap, hair stylen from the burbor shop to represent his own—which he done after the Turnkoy's customary examination of the various cells—and with this deceiful lu—hours proms he succeeded in sluding the viethouse prous he succeeded in sluding the vigi-lance of the officer, the more readily as the cell was somewhat durk, and objects not very plainly was somewhat carri, and objects not very plainy discernable. THE END OF THE WHITEWATER TRACEUY,-Our readers will remember the sad affair which occurred near Whitewater some time since, by which an estimable young man named Thomas Hamilton lost his life, at the hands of Richard Pierce, who had proviously been a frie d and companion of his. Pierce, it will be remembered, had just got married, and Hamilton, with several other young friends, went to serenade him on the evening of his wedding,-as they had been in the habit of doing whenever a wodding took place amongst their friends, Pierce invariably taking part in the sport, -- when the surly bridegroom came out and ordered them away; not obeying which immediately, he siezed a shot gun and discharging it at Hamilton, instantly killed him. For this he has recently been tried and convicted of murder in the second degree His connubial joys must be "bitter sweets,"

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Failing of Cordes's Grecery Building. five Forsone Buried in the Enims... One Killed and Three Seriously in-jured.

Shortly before four o'clock yesterday afternoon, the new four story greecy building of J. H. Condus & Co., on Detroit street, between East Water and Main streets, fell quite sudden; ly, with a tremendous crash, burying four persons in the ruins, all of whom were get out before evening; one dead, three others seriously infured, and one unburt, besides two others who made their way out most micaculously, before the falling building had come down. The front of the large building fell out across Detroit street, and luckily there was no one pass ing at the time, on that usually thronged street. The side wall fell in, and in less than a minute the whole building was a mass of ruine. A genin an instant it seemed to be burst in utoms, the heaviost part of it clear across the street, The terrific crash made by the fall was distinctly beard two blocks.

named JAMES Scorres, was in the second story near the front, and, as the wall fell out, he was seen to jump from the falling mass, and barely escaped from being covered up in the ruins. He jumped from the second floor but was not at all professional thieves. We do not recollect for injured. Another clerk, Wu. A. MILLER, was what length of trees he was sentenced. He is just entering the front door when he heard s noise, and seeing that the walls were about falling, ran for his life and barely recaped. The following are the names of those who were govered.

CHARLES Ews, partner, taken out dead. RAYMOND WEISKIRE, clerk, taken out alive. but badly injured, and his recovery is despaired of Louis Ews, taken out alive, though seriously iojurad. Oxro Ews, taken out alive. EMIL WEISERRE, partner, escaped from the ruias without much lajury. Others were reported to have been in the store at the time, but, after making diligent inquiry last night, we could hear of none others than those mentioned. Mr. J. H. Conpus, the principal partner, had just gone to the bank, and was terribly shooked when he heard of the catastrophe. About ten minutes or so after tho fall of the building, Mr. EMIL WEIBKIRK worked his way out of the rules, to the great surprise of bary Hall this evening, for most of the seats in falling mass. It was reported that a women and another man were in the store at the time, who were not taken from the ruins, but we trust the rumor may prove incorrect. 1: was impossible to as- speaking of the Concert at Chicago, the Journal certain to a certainty last night. Very soon after the accident occurred, at least three thousand persons were collected at the scene of destruction, most of whom willingly lent a helping hand to remove the rules, and save all they could, both of life and property. The Mayor was on hand the greater part of the time, preserving order. Chief Englaser SCHULTZ, Chief of Police BECK, DX-Chief Engineers DAGGETT and Fill- Her tone is electrical and thrilling, and almost MORE, long JOHN MILLER, GRO. BRIGHAM, and a number of others whom we might mention, worked nobly until the lest man was taken out.

The police were vigilant and active, and the firemen all worked like brave fellows. Soon after the building had fallen, a fire broke out in the reer end; for a moment it was feared that the poor fellows who might be alive in the ruins, would perish by the fismes. No. 5 Engine Co., whose house was quite close by, immediately had a stream upon the fire, which it speedily extinguished. The news of the accident spread through the posited in a tree near where he was found; and oity like wild fire, and the excitement was inthat he had been a policeman for a short time in | tense as hundreds rushed from every direction to the spane of disseter.

COUNTY COURT, MILES THE COUNTY - JUDGE PAYRE PRESIDENC. - The Milwaukee and Beloit Railroad Company, vs. Henry Bentley. The shove mentioned cause was brought to trial Tuesday morning and occupied the entire day The suit was brought by the Railroad company for calls payable on two shares of stock in that corporation, which were subscribed by the defendant on the conditions following: Provided that $100,000 in stock were subscribed in the city of Milwaukee, and "the Depot is South of Orogon street, in the Fifth Ward."

After the testimony was closed on the part of the plaintiff, the counsel for the defendant moved for a non-suit on the following grounds: 1st. There is no sufficient proof of the fucor poration of the plaintiffs. 2d. That $50,000 were not subscribed prior to the organization of the company.

3rd. That the subscription to the stock of the company does not render the defendant liable except for damager, in case of refusal to pay that the contract of subscription is void for want of mutuality, being without consideration; that the subscription, being a conditional one, is void; se against public policy, and also as being a fraud connuction.

THE NATIONAL THEATRE. - We wore one of about sigty persons who attended the National Theatre, 4 Young's Hall, on Tuesday night. The rain fell heavily all the evening, which no doubt provented many from being there; but still we de think a our citizens had been aware that so truly excell ent a performance was to take place, the Hall would have been tolerably well filled, notwithstanding the unpropitious state of the weather. Our city has unfortunately been visited by so many inferior theatrical companies, that pard boy and the welves fable, when really meditorious artists come here they find it difficult to succeed. This is the main reason why Mr. HANGEETT's theatre has been thus far so meatisms n who was standing in a window of the grely pateonized. Our people descriminate very Cross Keys Hotel, directly across the street, at the time the accident occurred, describes the When it known that good artists solicit public sight as being the most frightful he ever lavor, such seldem fall to meet a hearty support witnessed. He says he first heard a crash, and The hard times, the general scarcity of money, then saw the front wall moving slowly, and then lare of course a great draw back on public enterthinments at the present time. We feel assured, however, that there are hundreds of lovers of the dramaticart in our city, who would attend the National Theatre, did they know the character At the time the building fell there were, as | of the artists performing there. Let us assure near as we can learn, seven persons in it, two of such, then, that the company comprising Mr. whom got out all safe. One of them, a clerk HARGHETT's troupe, have seldom been equalled by any that have yet visited our city. The world-rendwhed tragedy of Othello was on the programme for Tuesday evening. The leading characters in this tragedy were represented with more spirit than we thought it possible for any actors to assume before a house full of empty benches. The principal character, Othello, was well sustained all through by Mr. HANGHETT .-His great physical power and fine voice are admirably calculated to give a true representation of the Moor. Miss HERRIETTA IRVING, an accomcomplished tragic actress, performed the part of Amelia with great spirit; the character, however, is not one in which she could display her powers to advantage. Miss FARRY RICH took the part of Desdemona with good taste. Iago, by Mr. Davis, and Roderige, by Mr. Lyrron, were both excellently enacted, the former particularly. The other characters were mostly well sustained,-Under such circumstances as this company performed, it would bardly be fair to criticise what main defects we might have noticed. Upon the whole, the play was well performed-better, infleed, than we had expected. THE CONGEST To-NIGHT!-It is needless to remind our citizens that the Concert of Virus-TENES, D'ANGRI and PERRING, takes place at Alall, without receiving serious injury. He was the large hall are already engaged. Their near the front of the building, and was saved by two entertainments at Chicago, were most suca strong pillar of brick work, which bore up the result, and our neighbors were fairly enraptured with the performances. Our exchanges speak of Vizuxtamps, as having "reached the very pinacle of art." and of PERRING as possessing a tenor voice unequalled in richness. In thus alludes to D'Angar:

"But the fair D'ARGRI divided the plaudits of the evening with him. She is totally different from all other singers who have appeared among us. Her style is bold, dashing and exciting -One of our cotamporaries styles her a "tiger lily," and hits not far from the truth. Her voice is of charming quality and of immense quantity. brings you to your feet occasionally. She, more than any other cantatrice, Almont alone excepted, displays the wonderful depths of music i the contralto voice. While her low notes have all the profundity of a heavy bass, her upper register is very clear, and she glides from the one to the other with certainty and with brilliant execution. At one encore she gave the rataplan,' so brilliantly given by MALIBRAN at her matiness. The audience were completely carried away, and gave vent to their feelings in the most enthusiastic applause. Her 'Ah / mon file' and 'Non Piu mesta' were also greeted with outbursts of applause." The manager, Mr. GRAU, informs us that they will positively give but one Concert in this city.

Of course all sorts of conjectures would be made, on such an occasion, and we only give what we heard for what it is simply worth, without professing to know any thing about the matter.

The store was put up at a cost of $10,000, and probably in was destroyed. The affair caused intense excitement in all parts of the city, and it was altogether the most calamitous accident that has bappened here for many a day. The small loss of life is the most astoniching feature of the whole.

"The Cleveland Wool Depot."

Established in the Winter of 1854.

HAS been in operation over few years, during the which neried, though its progress has been impeded by the adverce years of 1850 and 1857, the practicability of the piab has been clearly demonstrated. That the house affords superior advantages to the wool frowers of the West as medium for passing their wools into the hands of the manufacturer, is now no longer question. But sithough a viry large comber of Wool Growers have availed themselves of these advantages during the last four ward, who

But although a very large number of Wool Growers have availed themselves of these z-twaininged darling the last four years, yet, autypticing as it may appear to many, our receipts have been larger from Merchanis and Wool buyers than from Wool krow-rs, and this may be accounted for mainly from the fact, that, as a class, the wool growers have been mice cavily influenced and misled than the former, by the statements of a few operators who are wholly opposed to all efforts having for their object the systematizing of the wool trade, or the enhancement of priors to the producer.

The past year, characterised as it has been by the most disaction of namedal combarrassments, has been one of the most unfortunate for negotiating and managing sales of wool, and the fact that the enterprise has been remarked and infortunate for negotiating and managing sales of wool, and the fact that the enterprise has been remarked and you considered the statement of consigning should, we think, inspire sufficient outside the consigning should, we think, inspire sufficient outsidence, we have frequently made alwances. He said he believed, or rather was sure, no new instruc-tions had been received from the British gov-erament for the guidance of the vessels on the coast of Cuba. In said that the Greeke was slaver, and that soon after her capture colors and papers both disuppeared, the cuptain declaring that he was not entitled to American papers or colors. He said that is another case, where he had sent his quartermaster with a spyglass to ask permission to accoud the mast of the outermost vessul in the harder of Managers, in order to se whether the Styx was in sight, the captain said whether the Styx was in sight, the captain said, langhingly, afterwards, that he had heazed a newspaper wither into the belief that he had been bounded by British fillbusters. The facts are these: Figure, in its number of May 6th, inserted an Prigro, in the number of may but, inserted an article which was an insult to all the officers of the army. In giving an account of a sofres this journal sid, "Romarkable improvement—the inevitable sub-lieutenant was not there," &c.—On reading this article, M. Courtiel, a sub-lieutenant when Michael and Maryland at the Michael and Michael an Amorens, aduresses a serior to at. do Pane, (the "Nemo" of Figure,) the author of the article, calling upon him for satisfaction for the insult, cating upon tim for measurements in the amount of grain, &c., shipp Almost simultaneously M. sunt a challenge to M. de Pene. No answer was sent to either of these letters, but Figuro of the 18th, contained a second article, replying in coarse terms to M. Courtier's letter. Thereupon The average amou this officer came to M. Courtiel's letter. Thereupon this officer came to Paris, accompanied by his two seconds, M. Hyenne, and Roge. The meeting between M. de Pene and M. Courtiel took place in Vesinet wood. ing netween M. de Fane and M. Courtiel having re-calved a wound in the fore part of his arm, was compelled to renounce the combat, which had heen of very short duration, (one minute.) M. Hyenne, then approaching M. de Pene, address-ed him with the most perfect coolness, and the following dislogue occurred:

"I also, sir, wrote to you on the subject of your article, and I signed my name to my lotter.

Do you remember it?" "Fee, sir, I do."—
"Then you owe me satisfaction, and I demand it of you." "But it would be very difficult for mu to light with all the officers of the army."me to fight with all the officers of the army."—
"You have insulted them all, and they have all the right to force you to draw the sword." "I' refer to my seconds." In this state of things, the seconds having intimated their intention to leave the ground, M. Hyone urgently repeated his demand to fight. He told these gentlemen that he was determined to fight M. do Pene, and that if a meeting were refused, he should be under the painful necessity of insulting him. M. the Pene and his accords continuing to refuse, de Pene and his seconds continuing to rafuse H. Hyenne, after a last entreaty, which produced no effect, used an insuling gesture (a chiquenaud) towards his adversary, who thereupon asked his seconds what he should do. They replied, It turns out that M. DE PERE had no less than 42 officers, all leauged to fight and kill him, because he held a sarcastic pen, and had no right

Yours Truly, Pencilings by the Way. Prairie du Chien and McGregor.

om our Travelling Agent and florrespondent. PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, June 12th, 1868. The Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad, just before reaching Its Western (?) terminus, diverged auddenly-by no means an uncommon trick with the track on this road-and stopped suddealy, right opposite a steamboat, with the outaide of its paddle box painted all kinds of colors and devices; indeed I began to wonder whether some person had not transported the sign from Lazz's Paint shop, opposite the American House, in Milwaukee, and set it up in Prairie du Chien. This village, or rather two villages, bearing the names of Upper and Lower towns, looked quite refreshing, after the many small places we overflown track. The same poculiar appearance is here manifest, that had characterized the towns West of Madison, a flat piece of pralrie, with high bluffs around it; here, however, miles from its mouth, that has converted the there is a difference; instead of a brook, the Mismissippl, awellen and spread to double its usual width, is gliding mejestically between us and McGregor, bearing steamboats that are enerting from both their nostrils, as they pass up and Marke, who in other word says he would have down, and across its waters. The river is now said to be a mile and a half in width. I am aware that many of those who have visit-

There are three hotels now in operation, the Kane's, Mondell, and Granite House, the latter in the Lower Town. I of course stopped at the Kane's, kept by two of the sons of Judge Kans, of Milwaukee, for so long a time of the American House on Spring street. The Kane's hotel, at Prairie du Chien, is well kept; the meals and the beds are excellent. I can recommend it to all who wish this place .--There are five oburches erected and in progress of erection; the Catholics have a fine stone church; there are two brick shurches being built, one for the Baptists, and the other for the

There are three Ferries, one to McGregor. immediately opposite the Lower town, one to Johnson's Port, 15 miles above, and the other Carriages on reasonable terms, and can be found at my to Clayton, 10 miles below. Some idea of the place of business any hour of the day or night. business done at Clayton, may be formed from the following item, from the McGregor Times, of 1030 sacks of wheat. 2694 sacks of oats. 1110 sacks barley. The average amount of grain brought to Clayton City amounts to 2500 Bushels per day.

The Prairie du Chien and St. Paul Packet Co. have three fine steamboats continually running, the Milwaukee, Itasca, and Ocean Wave; these boats are nicely fitted up for passengers. The boats of the Galena and St. Paul Packet Co. constantly touch at Prairie du Chien ; there is also On shortnotice and at the most reasonable prices. We an opposition line of boats to Dubuque. There are two newspapers here, the Leader, Republican, and the Courier. Democratic; both are edited by Milwaukee men. Mr. MERRILL of the Courier, was, it will be remembered, the first to "put up" the name of James B. CRoss for Governor of Wisconsin, and worked manfully in the attempt to elect him. One of the editors of the Leader, was an approntice to ELISEA STARR, and the other, an old "jour" in the Sentinel office ; Manutal, also, was from the same institution. Both papers are having a good circulation. There are two banks; the Prairie du Chien Bank, is in a fine brick building, built last fall, three stories high. An iron Foundry and Machine shop is being built, and will soon be comploted. There are three steam saw mills, and one grist mill. I found a good deal of building going on; about fifty houses are being erected, and being finished, ready for occupation. The buildings of Fort Crawford are inhabited by a large number of families; the title to the land, and to the buildings also, it seems, is in dispute; in the meantime, occupants get tenements at a cheap rent. There is an inexhaustible supply of stone for building; every bluff is a solid rock or t Madison, as far as it has progressed, is obtain-

There is one thing to which I would call the ttention of the Milwaukee readers of the Sentinel; it is this. In making inquiries as to the markets, &c., I was informed, and I suppose steamer, from McGregor &c., to St. Louis, at twenty cents per bag of 21 bushels, or eight cents per bushel, and flour at twenty five cents per barrel, and that they find St. Louis a better wheat to Milwaukee via Railroad, more than double what it does by water to St. Louis, is not Milwaukeo the sufferer? Can it be remedied ?--The trade of the towns along the aboves of Iowa and Wisconsin, in this region, is worth contending for. Oan it be secured? I but write these things, as matters of deep interest to Milwaukse.

Like many other places along this part of the Railroad, Prairie du Chien seems to lack an arable country around her. The traffile and travel on the River is great, and no doubt contributes much, and will continue to contribute, to the two towns, but it appears to me, a road is wanted across, through, under, or bot reen those bluffs, out into the agricultural country, to secure more of a permanent prosperity to these towns. Five hundred or a thousand good farms. throwing their products in the hands of wheat buyers, &c., these farmers purchasing their requirements, in the way of goods and the necessaries of life, thus keeping up a constant circulation of money, is what Prairie du Chien soems to me to need. A good road, opened some way out into the country, where the grain is now, or had passed through, together with the had and is to be grown, is the great disideratum. I have no doubt that the same energy that has built up these two towns, induced 4,000 people to settle on the banks of the Mississippi, thousands o play ground of the savage into a smiling scene of civilization, erected school houses and church es, and carried the blessings of a free government into the wilderness; I have no doubt, that the same energy will devise the "ways and means," to so develope and draw upon the agricultural resources of the country lying around them, as to secure a continuance of that prosperity that has marked these towns, for the past the State, for a number of years past, the Sentinel has never failed to advance, in its columns, J. Newburgh, April 19th, 1858.

Bt. John B. Sanborn, Esq.

Dear Sir.—In reply to your request, saking my opinion with regard to ine Composition Randing patented by C. R. Mike, I have to state that I have examined the matter carefully, having watched its application in various places and in some very difficult ones, which is has been impossible to stop the lexicage of with any other known compound. I have no heata-tion in pronounding, so far as its Water Proof qualities are concerned, a sentially the thing, and no to ten Fire. Proof qualities, having examined the roofs of Homer Ramadell, Eq., I find the roof boards completely observed through, and at the same time the Composition remains entirely windowhed by the fire, athough constantly covered with falling brands and cluders. I therefore consider it essentially both a Fire and Water-Froof substance, and having had considerable experience with other Compositions for Roofing purposes. (particularly with West's patent.) I have no healtailou in pronouncing it the very best thing extant, both as a Fire and Water Proof Composition for Roofing purposes.

Having felt an interest in the subject of Mastic Roofing, and knowing that the preparations hitherto used have failed to stand the winters of this climate, we were induced in September last to apply, as an experiment, some of O. R. Mike's Mastic Roofing on a 'Un roof adjoining our office, (said roof being and expected to the action of the weather, and also the rate and some from another roof.) we find at this date, said roofing in the most perfect order, and helieve the great question of how does it stand the "winter" is settled, and that O. R. Mike's Roofing must prevail over the great question of how for its state Brokers, 51 State street, Albamy.
